

Fijian Studies

A Journal of Contemporary Fiji

---

Vol. 2 No. 1

May 2004

---

Special Issue: Environment and Sustainable Development

Guest Editors

Mahendra Kumar & Jenny Bryant-Tokalau

Articles

|   |                                     |     |
|---|-------------------------------------|-----|
| An Overview of Pacific Sustainability - Challenges for People and Institutions  | R. Gerard WardNancy Davis Lewis | 1   |
| Climate Change and Small Island Developing Countries of the South Pacific   | Murali Lal                          | 15  |
| Sustainable Urban Development: Pacific Dream or Reality? A Fiji Case Study  | Spike Boydell                       | 33  |
| Renewable Energy Possibilities for Fiji   | Mahendra KumarRupeni Mario      | 51  |
| The Environmental Impacts of the Lome Trade Agreement and Fiji's Sugar Exports  | Premila KumarBiman C Prasad     | 75  |
| Environmental Accounting for South Pacific Island Nations: A Possible Mechanism for Encouraging Sustainable Development by the Corporate Sector | Sumit K. Lodhia                     | 111 |

Documents

|  |                                     |     |
|--|-------------------------------------|-----|
| The Fiji Country Profile: Sustainable Development Bill                                     | Government of Fiji                  | 141 |
| Metamorphosis of the Sustainable Development Bill  | Premila Kumar                       | 146 |
| Sustainable Development Success StoriesSpecial Issue on Small Island Developing States | SIDSNET                             | 153 |
| Pacific Nations Prepare For International Meeting on Small Island Developing States        | UN Department of Public Information | 156 |