

Fijian Studies

A Journal of Contemporary Fiji

Special Issue: Gender Issues in Fiji

Volume 3, No. 2

November 2005

Articles

- |   |                        |
|---|------------------------|
| Articulated Cultures: Militarism and Masculinities in Fiji during the Mid 1990s                                       | Teresia K. Teaiwa      |
| The Church Versus Women's Push for Change: the Case of Fiji   | Eta Varani-Norton      |
| Understanding Poverty from a Gender Perspective   | Priya D. Chatter       |
| Violence, Agency and Freedom of Movement: Issues Emerging out of the Lata Sisters' Disappearance                      | Susanna Trnka          |
| Making a Difference Where it Counts: A Case of Activism, Advocacy and Action-Research with Two Women's Groups in Fiji | Eci Nabalarua          |
| The Embodiment of Gender and Madness in Colonial Fiji   | Jacqueline Leckie      |
| Gender, Health Inequality, and Hidden Healers in Rural Fiji   | Barbara Herr Harthorn  |
| A Tale of Two Mothers: Colonial Constructions of Indian and Fijian Maternity  | Vicki Luker            |
| Wild and Domesticated: Matailobau Foods, Gender, and Rituals  | Diane Michalski Turner |
| From Little Girl to Young Woman: The Menarche Ceremony in Fiji  | Marijke Sniekers       |
| Paradise Revisited: Women's Writing from Fiji   | Gina Wisker            |

Dialogue

- |                             |                                    |
|-----------------------------|------------------------------------|
| Rights of Sexual Minorities | Jacqueline LeckieAkuila Yabaki |
|-----------------------------|------------------------------------|

Gender Bibliography

Jacqueline Leckie

ISSN 1728-7456

Published by Fiji Institute of Applied Studies